

Determined, ambitious learners

18 January 2021

Dear students,

We want to make sure that you are safe even when you're not in the building with your teachers and support staff. Your safety is always our concern and especially at the moment when you are all spending so much time online for lessons.

The following is about how to stay safe when you are using the internet for everything that's not to do with your lessons. When you are in the Google meet with your teachers, you are completely safe. However, when you join a chatroom you will find people are very friendly but the person you are talking to might not always be who they say they are.

People can pretend to be your age and unfortunately there have been cases where adults have pretended to be teenagers and lured young people into meeting them in dangerous situations. Some of these cases have ended up in court in the UK.

Bullying UK has had experience of young people using the internet who have been persuaded into dangerous situations by adults. This is an offence called 'grooming'.

How can you stay safe online? Here are some internet safety tips:

- Never give out your real name
- Never tell anyone where you go to school
- Only ever meet someone from a chatroom in a public place with one of your parents or another adult. If they are genuinely who they say they are they will be happy to do this
- Never give out your address or telephone number
- Never agree to meet anyone from a chatroom on your own
- Tell an adult if someone makes inappropriate suggestions to you or makes you feel uncomfortable online

What are the danger signs to look out for?:

- If the person tries to insist on having your address or phone number
- If the person emails you pictures which make you feel uncomfortable and which you would not want to show to anyone else
- If the person wants to keep their chats with you secret
- If the person tells you that you will get into trouble if you tell an adult what has been going on
- If the person emails you pictures which make you feel uncomfortable and which you would not want to show to anyone else
- If the person wants you to email them pictures of yourself or use a webcam in a way which makes you feel uncomfortable
- If the person shares information with you and tells you not to tell anyone else about it
- If the person wants to meet you and tells you not to let anyone know
- If you find any of these danger signs, it's important that you tell your parents or another adult.

Please remember that you can always be able to contact your Head of Learning or Student Manager if you are worried.

Take care everyone and stay safe.
